VOTERS' CHOICE

What do 2013 election results mean for Bergen County, New Jersey and the US?

Friday, November 22, 2013 (yes, the FOURTH Friday!)
11:30AM – 2:00PM
Stony Hill Inn, Hackensack

On October 16, voters will go to the polls for a special election to fill the US Senate seat left vacant by the death of Senator Frank Lautenberg. On November 5, voters will return to the polls to cast their vote for candidates for municipal, county, district and statewide offices.

No matter who wins, the outcome of the elections will have far-reaching effects on us here in Bergen County, and our fellow New Jerseyans throughout the state. Join us for an in-depth panel discussion of what those effects might be.

The panel will feature two highly-acclaimed observers of the political process: Dr. Brigid Harrison, professor of Political Science and Law at Montclair State University, and a frequent commentator in print (including The Sunday Record) and electronic media on U.S. politics; and Dr. Peter Woolley, professor of Comparative Politics and co-founder and
